On a personal note, Judge Price has always been a trusted mentor and source of wise counsel and wisdom. His daughter Susan and I were college schoolmates at Princeton. I am so grateful for the way his family embraced me as one of their own. As a trailblazer and legal icon, Judge Price is a true inspiration and admiration for so many of us. Congratulations to Judge Price for your significant contributions to the City of Montgomery and the State of Alabama.

On behalf of Alabama's 7th Congressional District, I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing the extraordinary career of a legal powerhouse, Judge Price, for his decades of service to the State of Alabama and this nation.

TRIBUTE IN HONOR OF TOMMY HAROLD MINK

HON. HAROLD ROGERS

OF KENTUCKY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, May 27, 2022

Mr. ROGERS of Kentucky. Madam Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Tommy Harold Mink in celebration of his retirement from the Rockcastle County Industrial Development Board in Mount Vernon, Kentucky, where he has dedicated 45 years of service to the community and southeastern Kentucky.

Mr. Mink has been instrumental in providing wisdom and guidance for industrial development, job creation, and economic growth in Rockcastle County, beginning with the Rockcastle County Improvement Board and continuing to aid in acquisition, retention, and development of local land for new opportunities for more than four decades as a charter member of the Rockcastle County Industrial Development Board.

Mr. Mink is also a member of the Kentucky Cattleman's Association Hall of Fame, as a result of his life-long, successful career in the farming industry. His passion for farming began as a child in Rockcastle County where he was born and raised on a 35-acre dairy farm. He became a first-generation college graduate in his family, earning a degree in agriculture in 1958. Today, he and his sons still own and operate a 350 cow/calf and backgrounding operation.

His expertise has been highly sought after by a number of local and state organizations, including serving as a board member of the Rockcastle County Cattleman's Association since 1985, serving as Master Conservationist in 1981, a charter member of the Rockcastle County Forage Council, the Rockcastle County Soil Conservation District since 1982 and Chairman from 1983 to 2019, a charter member of the Rockcastle County Saddle Club for more than 20 years, an Extension Agency Board Member, Chairman of the Western Rockcastle Water District, the Farmers Home Administration, a Farm Bureau board member, the Vocational Educational Regional Advisory Board in Harlan County, and a court-appointed appraiser for the Commonwealth of Kentucky. He is also Chairman of the Brindle Ridge Fire Department, a founding member of Cedar Rapids Country Club, and a deacon of the Brindle Ridge Baptist Church. Mr. Mink has also been a Kentucky Colonel since the late 1960's.

As a veteran of the U.S. Army, with two tours of active duty from 1959 to 1966, this nation owes Mr. Mink a great debt of gratitude for his military service. His overall lifetime of service is truly inspiring, from working on the farm as a young boy, to becoming a member of the U.S. Armed Forces, to establishing a Veterans Honor Guard in Rockcastle County, to building a successful business and providing tireless community service throughout his entire adult life.

Mr. Mink has sincerely earned his due retirement and I wish him and his family the very best in the years to come.

REMEMBERING MIKE EVANHOE

HON. ERIC SWALWELL

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, May 27, 2022

Mr. SWALWELL. Madam Speaker, I rise along with Congressman JIMMY PANETTA and Congresswoman ESHOO to recognize the life and service of Mike Evanhoe, who passed away last year.

Mike Evanhoe was as member of the Danville community for many years and spent his career working to improve California's transportation system to better serve the regional community and economy.

Mike began his career working for the California Department of Transportation and served as Assistant Secretary for Transportation in the Business, Transportation and Housing Agency for Governor Brown.

He played an instrumental role in securing support for AB 402, which facilitated new, collaborative approaches to transportation project implementation. He later served as the first Executive Director of the California Transportation Commission, Executive Director of the Golden Triangle Task Force, and then as Executive Director of the new Santa Clara County Congestion Management Agency.

In these roles, he worked on several complex transportation issues, from the Sunol Grade project on I-680 to the construction of the interchange between State Routes 85 and 101. In fact, because of his service, the California Legislature named that particular section of our roadway in southern San Jose as the "Michael Evanhoe interchange."

Mike continued his service as the interim Executive Director for Stanislaus County Council of Governments where he played a pivotal role helping the Transbay Joint Powers Authority in San Francisco secure necessary approvals to transfer excess state property to the San Francisco Redevelopment Agency.

Mike was known for his exemplary leadership and development of strong relationships with staff as well as local, state, and regional agencies. He retired in 2014, after addressing California's transportation issues for nearly 50 years.

Mike is survived by his partner, David; sister, Pam; and his niece, Sherri. He was a friend and mentor to many and will be missed.

RECOGNIZING THE THIRTY-SIX YEAR PUBLIC SERVICE CAREER
OF ALEXANDRIA COUNCILWOMAN
DEL PEPPER

HON. GERALD E. CONNOLLY

OF VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, May 27, 2022

Mr. CONNOLLY. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize Ms. Redella S. Pepper, the recently retired Councilwoman from Alexandria, Virginia, for her thirty-six years of dedicated public service.

Ms. Pepper, known to many as Del, won her first election to Alexandria's city council in 1985 after serving as an aide to Mayor Charles Beatley. Once she ran for and won her seat on the council, she treated her office as a full-time job. As other council members have served diligently while maintaining other commitments, Del Pepper's sole priority has been bettering her community for nearly four decades. She was on the council longer than any other incumbent and served as Alexandria's vice mayor from 1996 to 1997 and from 2003 to 2009.

Even before her involvement in Alexandria, Del Pepper found herself fighting for others. She worked on her father's city council campaign growing up in Omaha, Nebraska. In the 1960s, Ms. Pepper managed a regional headquarters during President Lyndon Johnson's campaign. This would be impressive today, but Del did it in a time when women rarely took on such prominent roles in politics. She moved to Alexandria in 1968 and hit the ground running with her desire to serve.

Del Pepper has been an outspoken advocate for compassion, and the residents of Alexandria recognize that. She has remained a voice for the West End, ensuring that her part of town has had representation in the council all along the way. Ms. Pepper has advocated for seniors, too, making Alexandria a more accessible place to live.

The residents of Alexandria have elected Del Pepper with more votes than any of the other at large councilmembers three times, leading to her recognition as vice mayor. She has voted in the best interests of her community, fighting for the environment by shutting down a coal plant and leading the charge to make Alexandria an Eco-City in 2008. Del even served on the Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments' Air Quality Committee and Board of Directors.

Del Pepper also served beyond her City Council seat by working on Alexandria's Commission on Aging, ensuring that senior citizens have access to the resources needed to live full and independent lives. Additionally, she worked on the Facilities Naming Committee, where she ensured that our landmarks would honor those who deserved the praise. Del also worked with the Commission on Information
